Guidelines for our Study

- No one is teaching – everyone is learning together – our authority is God, and the Bible scholars who are referenced.

Note: We will be examining the Book from a Christian perspective. Therefore, we will not be including references from cults, foreign religions or fringe groups. We will not be discussing denominational issues, counseling or doctrinal differences.

- No question is dumb. We'll go searching for answers and use respected references. In some cases, a question may be referred to your pastor if it is a denominational one.
- Please come prepared to participate. Read the material and complete any study questions. You only cheat yourself if you don't.
- Let's have some serious fun – enthusiasm is contagious and the Bible is a wonderful study!!!
